Red Forces Within 50 Miles Of East Prussia

Russian Forces Lunging Deeper Into Lithuania

Spearheads Sent Driving Toward Riga, Capital City Of Latvia

DRIVING AHEAD ON WIDE FRONT

(BULLETIN)

LONDON, July 11.—(INS)—The Red army, continuing its sweeping advance to the Baltic Sea, has pushed to within 50 miles of the East Prussian frontier, a Reuter dispatch from Moscow reported today. This represented a gain of 10 miles by the Soviet spearheads pressing beyond captured Lida.

BY NATALIA RENE
(U.S. Staff Correspondent)

MOSCOW, July 11.—Red army troops lunged deeper into Lithuania today in the mounting drive to oust the Nazis from the Baltic states and sent spearheads driving toward Riga, port and capital city of Latvia, little more than 100 miles distant.

The Soviets attacked on a broad front between the Baltic and the Baltic Sea, and the vital communications hub of Dvinsk on the Dvina river.

The Russian armed columns smashed across the highway from Dvinsk to Kaunas (Kovno) and reached the rail town of Utena in the advance on Riga.

Liberate Many Towns

Offensive columns along the 100-mile Wilno-Dvinsk front liberated more than 300 populated places.

PA NEWC Observes

Blackberries are getting ripe, and the crop is abundant, Pa Newc is told.

Boys of the South Side district have a swimming hole at the abutment of the old Gardner avenue bridge, in the Shenango, Pa Newc discovered last night. Quite a gang was enjoying the swimming program.

Hot weather didn't seem to interfere with the size of the crowd downtown for Monday night shopping, last night.

You can still aid in helping to put the Fifth War Loan quota over the top in Lawrence County. Buy another bond at once.

Save this newspaper and all clean newspapers for the salvage drive here on Saturday, which will be a dual benefit locally. The Shenango Pottery will get the badly needed papers, and the Deshon Army hospital annex here will get the funds derived.

And Saturday will be St. Swirthin's Day.

Tomatoes seem to be coming along at an uneven pace in local victory gardens. Some gardeners already have ripe ones of early varieties; others have a lot of fruit on the plants still several weeks from being ripe; and still others have only blossoms as yet.

Mark Must, of 1504 Thorpe street reports that he has picked ripe tomatoes in his garden, along with 3 dozen sweet corn, and some cucumbers.

Ninety names are now listed on the honor roll near the court house, on the corner of Court and Washington streets. The names are those of Lawrence county men who have lost their life during this war. They are printed on little gold rectangles and inserted on the roll. Included on the list are privates, lieutenants, sergeants of many classes, a warrant officer and a major.

Report Morale In East Prussia Is Dropping Rapidly

Fifth Army Is Making Progress On Italian Front

French Units Register Gain Half Mile Northeast Of Ranza

HEAVY ATTACKS BY ALLIED FLIERS

BY JAMES L. KILGALLIN
(U.S. Staff Correspondent)

ROME, July 11.—American troops of the Fifth Army in Italy, pressing up the west coast behind the important port of Livorno, sent advanced elements punching forward more than eight miles northwest of Volterra today.

The spearheading Yank units bypassed the town of Lajatico, eight miles from Volterra, a commune from headquarters of Gen. Sir Henry Maitland Wilson said.

Japanese-American troops, fighting against severe resistance, bypassed the village of Pomaia and then closed in on the key village of Casale, a mile north on an important secondary road.

French Capture Hill

French units of the Fifth Army, after a bitter fight against Nazi tanks, took an important hill feature a half mile northeast of Ranza.

The headquarters communique said that fighting against the Nazis defending the approaches to the Gothic line of fortifications was stubborn in most areas.

"Allied armies in Italy have kept up their attack, and the enemy in some sectors has put in counterattacks," the communique said.

"However, troops of the Fifth Army are making steady progress northwest of Volterra, where advanced elements are now in the vicinity of Lajatico."

Forces of the British Eighth Army held fast against German counterattacks south of Arezzo. The troops of the Eighth, commanded by Lieut. Gen. Sir Oliver Leese, maintained their positions three to four miles below the city.

In the upper Tiber valley British patrols pushed five miles beyond Carpi.

Washington Roundup

(International News Service)

The political pot is beginning to boil more rapidly in Washington today with Democratic national convention just nine days off. Reaction to Vice-President Wallace's two-hour conference with President Roosevelt is that the convention will name a new man for the second spot on the 1944 ticket when it opens in Chicago next week.

It appears that the Democratic platform will contain a plank endorsing the outline of a postwar world organization recently proposed by Secretary of State Hull. The plank is expected to be in general terms, thus avoiding conflict over such proposals as an international police force or a world state.

War Mobilization Director Byrnes, meanwhile, faces the task of weighing the progress of allied arms and deciding whether the time is ripe to start on gradual reconversion of American industry. WPB Chief Nelson wants to limit civilian production but army and navy leaders urged delay until Germany is nearly collapsed. A compromise verdict is believed unlikely.

The White House may also have to decide the issue of whether officers of the U. S. air force should continue training Argentine military aviators. The army says yes, but the state department says no.

Many Washington correspondents and government officials have gone to nearby Baltimore today to honor the late George R. Holmes, former chief of the Washington bureau of International News Service, at the launching of a Liberty ship bearing his name. Holmes' widow is sponsor of the vessel.

President Says He Is Willing To Take Fourth Term

Announcement Is Made At Press Conference At White House Today

READS LETTER HE SENT TO CHAIRMAN

BY ROBERT G. NIXON
(U.S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, July 11.—President Roosevelt, in a dramatic announcement told the nation today that he is willing to accept a fourth term as chief executive.

Mr. Roosevelt resolved the burning question of his candidacy into a tense news conference at the White House.

The president made his decision known by reading a letter which he had written to Robert Hannegan, chairman of the Democratic national committee.

Will Serve If Elected

The chief executive said he was reluctant at continuing as president but declared:

"If the people elect me, I will serve, but I would not run in the usual partisan political sense."

"Therefore, reluctantly, but as a good soldier, I repeat that I will accept and serve in this office if I am so ordered by the commander-in-chief of us all—the sovereign people of the United States."

The announcement was typically "Roosevelitian" in its drama and surprise, and followed a pattern which the president has many times characterized as "unpredictable."

Different Procedure

In contrast with his acceptance of the third term nomination, the president today made his position known days in advance of the Democratic national convention. In 1940, Mr. Roosevelt kept his intentions to himself until the convention actually got under way when he sent a message to the delegates through Sen. Alben Barkley (D-Ky).

Tightening Noose Around Japs In New Guinea Now

BY FRANK ROBERTSON
(U.S. Staff Correspondent)

GEN. DOUGLAS MACARTHUR'S HEADQUARTERS, New Guinea, July 11.—American and Australian troops tightened the noose around helplessly trapped Japanese forces in New Guinea today.

The Japs continued to move up westward along the coast toward Aitape, some 125 miles east of Hollandia, Rutch New Guinea.

Gen. Douglas MacArthur's headquarters revealed that a considerable force of Japs was concentrated several miles from the Aitape, where in all probability they might try a suicide break-out of the ring of forces relentlessly closing in on them.

Japs Are Pinched

The Japs have been pinched in between American forces around Aitape and Australian troops advancing up the New Guinea coast in the area south of Wewak.

Dewey To Meet G.O.P. Governors

Gathering To Be Scheduled For Late July Or Early August

BY LEO W. O'BRIEN
(U.S. Staff Correspondent)

ALBANY, N. Y., July 11.—Gov. Thomas E. Dewey will announce today plans for an early August or late July meeting with the Republican governors of 25 other states, at which he is expected to deliver his first campaign blast at the New Deal since his acceptance speech at Chicago.

The Republican presidential nominee is convinced that the same forces which brought about the election of GOP governors in more than half the states can be utilized to carry all or most of those states for him in November.

That theory, too, lies behind the series of conferences he is conducting with Republican members of or candidates for congress in many states.

Gov. Dewey and his advisers see no reason, if there is to be a sweep which will elect a Republican-controlled congress, why that sweep should not carry a Republican into the White House.

The idea of a governors conference first was advanced at the Republican national convention, where the governors present dominated the proceedings. It is expected to serve as a sounding board for attacks upon the Democratic national administration, not only by Gov. Dewey and his running mate, Gov. John W. Bricker, but by several other widely known state executives.

Unrest In Colombia; President Seized

BOGOTA, Colombia, July 11.—(INS)—The presidency of Colombia was assumed temporarily today by Vice President Dario Echandia after President Alfonso Lopez was seized by a rebellious group of army officers.

A number of cabinet ministers also were placed under arrest by the military group which took the Colombian officials into custody at Pasto, Colombia, where they had gone to review army maneuvers.

Vice President Echandia took over the office of president in view of the "temporary inability of President Lopez to exercise executive functions."

Recapture Of Guam Appears Certain As Next Pacific Move

By CAPT. JOHN H. CRAIG
(Written Especially for U.S.S.)

The capture of Saipan in the strategic Mariana Islands marks a long forward step in Uncle Sam's gigantic and complicated war against Japan in the Pacific, greatest air-sea land conflict in history.

The greatest foe to be overcome in the Pacific war is distance, which must be bridged by a line of bases strung out like stepping-stones from Hawaii to Tokyo. Saipan is the biggest stepping stone and the closest to Nippon's main islands that has yet fallen into American hands.

Fleets of warships and long range airplane bombers based on Saipan will be able to operate against Japan's main industrial districts, and to conduct sweeps against Japanese overseas supply-lanes clear to the coast of China. Hitherto the battle of the central Pacific, fought by Admiral Nimitz's fleets has been a battle for small island-bases, such as Kwajalein and Eniwetok. This was the necessary first step of our march across the Pacific. Now that chapter of the war is ended and the stage is set for the opening of the final phase, with American airplane squadrons, naval fleets and amphibious armies, advancing against Japan's inner defense lines for the final decisive battles that will mark the end.

For more than 40 years Saipan and Guam have been recognized by American naval-military authorities as of decisive importance as bases in case of war with Japan.

Tightening Noose Reports 54,000 Nazis Taken In Drive In France

LONDON, July 11.—(INS)—Gen. Sir Bernard L. Montgomery, commander of Allied ground forces in France, today complimented his troops on the concrete gains they have scored during the past month despite fierce German opposition.

He disclosed in a broadcast message addressed to all his troops that 54,000 enemy troops had been taken prisoner and that the Allies have "good ground for solid satisfaction."

The Allies, General Montgomery said, had given the Germans a tremendous pounding and clung to their positions firmly and securely.

In concluding his message, he said:

"And so to every Allied soldier in Normandy I say: 'Well done; well done indeed. You have performed a great task in a manner which is fully in keeping with the great traditions of the fighting stock from which we all come. And your families and friends in the homeland may well be very proud of their menfolk serving overseas.'"

"It is the earnest desire of every Allied soldier in Normandy to finish this business off as quickly as possible and throw his full weight and do his duty until it is well finished off."

"That we all must do."

"Good luck to each one of you."

Government Of Churchill Loses

LONDON, July 11.—(INS)—The government of Prime Minister Winston Churchill was defeated by one vote in the House of Lords today during consideration of the education bill.

Churchill's government suffered its last defeat in the House of Commons on this same measure and at that time the prime minister elected to make the issue of an amendment to the education bill a vote of confidence.

When a second vote was held the government was upheld by an overwhelming majority.

County Workers Expect To Reach War Loan Quota

Believe Goal Is Now In Sight—Appeal For Aid To Put Drive Over

FUND TOTAL NOW UP TO $6,847,383

It's just a short mashie pitch onto the green marked "Quota" in the Lawrence County fifth war loan campaign.

The grand total today of the campaign shows $6,847,383 out of a quota of $7,010,000 and if our arithmetic is still as good as it was in Thaddeus Stevens School that means the county is short only $162,617 which is less than average of two dollars per person for every person in the county.

Without giving out with any premature optimism, it begins to look as though the county would make the grade, perhaps before the end of the month. The campaign officially ended July 8 but is being continued in this county through the month. All the campaign needs now is a sharp yell and it's in.

The Nazi agency DNB first reported the attack, claiming that the bomber formations were engaged at mid-day by German fighter planes. Dogfights were reported fought in the skies over the Munich area, and DNB claimed the American raiders "profited" by a blanket of clouds.

American Might In Air Pointed Towards Japan

Capture Of Important Air Bases On Saipan Puts Japan Mainland Closer To Doom

JAPANESE AIR FORCES WARY

BY RICHARD V. HALLER
(U.S. Staff Correspondent)

PEARL HARBOR, July 11.—The menacing danger of American air power pointed ever closer to the Japanese mainland today as stepping up operations go forward on Saipan, 1450 miles southeast of Tokyo.

With shore-based United States planes already using Saipan's level field, victorious American forces on the strategic Mariana island presumably were losing no time in preparing to launch a new offensive, possible for big B-29 Superforts.

Vice Admiral John M. Hoover, commander of the central Pacific forward area, pronounced Saipan "the best for airfield development of any central Pacific island so far wrested from the Japanese in the vast Pacific offensive."

Guam Is Bombed

The newest blow struck against enemy central Pacific bases. Admiral Chester W. Nimitz announced in his latest communique, were carried out Saturday at Guam and Rota islands in the southern Marianas.

Jap facilities on Guam were shelled by "light surface units" of the fleet, the admiral's communique reported, indicating that defenses on the once formidable enemy stronghold have been weakened by numerous carrier air strikes to such an extent as to permit close range bombardment.

Jap anti-aircraft fire was described as moderate to intense but the communique did not mention enemy air opposition over either Guam or Rota. One American

WITH THE U. S. FIRST ARMY IN NORMANDY, July 11.—Under a thundering artillery barrage, the American forces east of the impeded road junction of St. Lo launched an attack today.

The attack started at dawn along a salient of approximately 10 miles and gained about one mile in the first three hours.

American troops who reached the edge of Pont Hebert, three miles north of St. Lo, yesterday fought off two determined counter-attacks during the night. Then they continued to push forward, gaining approximately a mile.

The first German attack came at 1:30 a. m. It was supported by tanks and directed against the Yank lines northwest of Pont Hebert. The attack was beaten off with flame-throwers and bazookas.

Two German Mark IV tanks were destroyed.

Two hours later the Nazis attacked anew and again were repulsed.

The new attack extends the active American front in Normandy to a distance of more than 40 miles.

American tanks were attacking on all sectors.

New American Thrust Is Made Toward St. Lo

Yanks Driving Ahead To Attempt Capture Of Communications Center

BY KINGSBURY SMITH
(U.S. Staff Correspondent)

SUPREME HEADQUARTERS, Allied Expeditionary Force, July 11.—A rapid one-mile gain in a violent new American thrust toward the communications center of St. Lo on the Cherbourg peninsula was reported in front-line dispatches reaching London today.

A Reuter broadcast from the battle zone said that American forces had reached a point within two miles of St. Lo at noon after capturing the town of Pont Hebert.

International News Service War Correspondent Clark Lee reported from the front that American troops east of St. Lo launched an attack today behind a thundering artillery barrage.

The British radio, according to both NEC and CBS, said that the Americans had advanced at one point to within two miles of St. Lo.

British Drive

The American push was accompanied by a persistent British drive to the east beyond the Odon river bridgehead in which the British advanced in the face of stern German opposition to seize high ground overlooking the Orne river southwest of captured Caen.

Headquarters of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower said that the fighting on the Odon river bridgehead, where the Nazis contested every step, was particularly severe.

In announcing the capture of Pont Hebert, three miles north of St. Lo along the road from St. Jean-De-Daye, headquarters said that the British Also Launch Drive

By KINGSBURY SMITH

SUPREMACY HEADQUARTERS AL-
Red Expeditionary Force, July 11.
Two separate offensive drives were opened by American and British forces in France today.

Soon after battlefront dispatches disclosed a fresh thrust by United States troops from La Haye Du Puits which soon resulted in a one-mile gain toward the communications center of St. Lo on the Cherbourg peninsula. Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's headquarters announced
another attack by forces of the British second army under Gen. Sir Bernard L. Montgomery.

The British launched their attack on the east side of the Orne river north of Caen and likewise secured an early one-mile advance.
Canadian troops consolidated their positions along the western bank of the Orne from Louvigny to a point northeast of Malot.

In the Hottot area the allies made a local advance of half a mile on a front of two miles.

President Agrees On French Authority

French National Authority Is Accepted As De Facto Authority In France

WASHINGTON, July 11.—(INS)—
President Roosevelt announced today
he had agreed to accept the French national committee as the de facto authority in France.

Though the President studiously avoided the word government, and also the word recognition, his announcement today was tantamount to recognizing De Gaulle's committee
as the government of France.

The President pointed out that Gen. Eisenhower retains final authority to determine what is a civilian area and what is a military area in France. But when this determination is made, the French national committee will operate without challenge as the governing authority in the civilian areas.

The President also revealed that the agreement already reached between the British government and the French committee will form the basis for redrafting an agreement between the United States and the French committee.

The agreement already reached in London covers four points:

Administration, finance and currency, reconstruction and information.

Though the President spoke without much enthusiasm of this new understanding, he acknowledged that there were no problems or complications which remain unsolved,
so far as the immediate period
of military operations is concerned.

his picture taken with Wallace.

The fact that Wallace did not say he was going to seek nomination again and the picture taking ban added to the rapidly growing belief that Mr. Roosevelt had finally given into demands of Democratic party chieftains to drop the vice president from the new ticket.

Wallace returned to Washington
amid a growing revolt in Democratic ranks against him being nominated again. Booms for a dozen or more conservative Democrats for the vice presidency started while he was visiting China and Asiatic Russia for Mr. Roosevelt.

The vice president refused to discuss politics both when he entered and left the executive mansion.
When pressed by a large group of reporters waiting outside the White House, he said he would discuss the subject "sometime in the future."

Asked whether he intended to participate in the Democratic national convention, which begins at Chicago July 19, Wallace explained
he was chairman of the Iowa delegation to the conclave and would be present in that capacity.

Regarding his 23,000 mile journey,
to observe conditions in the Far East, Wallace reported that the war situation in China is "grave."

American troops of Lieut. Gen.
Omar N. Bradley had moved still further south toward St. Lo and were making satisfactory progress.

In the Vire river bridgehead area,
the Americans occupied Graignes,
a village three and one-half miles south-southwest of Caen. Through the capture of Graignes the Americans were able to join up with other troops in Le Mesnil-Durand and other villages in the same area, capture of which already was announced.

A headquarters spokesman said that there had been no new advance from these villages to the west but that to the east of the Vire river American troops joined up and were in touch with the village of La Meauffe, five miles north of St. Lo.

Cut Railway

On the extreme west, southwest of La Haye, the Americans cut the railway to the south, occupied the village of Cepron Gouthreau.

In the area southwest of Caen
the Americans countered dug-in German tanks southwest of Le Carbiniere, delaying their advance west of Le Corbiniere. The Americans nevertheless advanced and occupied Boignot, one mile south-southwest of Sainteny.

The area being crossed by the Americans is heavily mined, the country is water-logged and covered with streams, all of which makes progress a matter of great difficulty.

The spokesman pointed out that further counter-attacks were expected since the Germans were resisting fiercely in a determined effort to try and prevent the British from crossing the Orne and imperiling their entire positions south of Caen.

RUSSIAN FORCES LUNGING DEEPER INTO LITHUANIA

from the grasp of the Germans.
The high command communique announcing the Soviet gains said 100 inhabited points, including district centers of Soviet Lithuania, had been taken south and southwest of Dvinsk. More than 200 places were occupied north, west and south of Wilno.

The Red army onslaught completely cut off the city of Wilno im-side of which street fighting was in progress between remnants of the German garrison and Soviet riflemen battling to mop up the enemy forces in the center of the town.

Plunge Ahead
Immediately below the Baltic fronts other Red army columns plunged ahead beyond liberated Minsk, capital of White Russia, and south of the town of Lida occupied more than 80 inhabited points.

At the lower end of the current 500-mile front, Soviet columns driving westward through the Pripiat marshes area and along the Minsk-Warsaw rail line captured the rail cities of Luninets and Slonim.

Luninets, 30 miles east of Pinsk is the junction of the Wilno-Rovno and Gomel-Warsaw lines. Forces which captured Luninets were headed in the direction of historic Brest-Litovsk.

At Slonim, 30 miles west of Baranovichi, three trunk railways which converge on Warsaw from Moscow, Bologoe and Leningrad are joined.

RECAPTURE OF GUAM APPEARS CERTAIN AS NEXT PACIFIC MOVE

biggest islands in the central Pacific between the Hawaiian group and the Chinese mainland. Their strategic importance is so evident that as long ago as February 16 last,
this column predicted their capture as one of the key moves to be expected in the drive of Admiral Nimitz's fleets to the west.

Saipan and Guam owe their key-importance to the fact that each is about 20 miles long by approxima-ly half that width. Bases for great fleets of warships and planes must provide space for huge air fields, harbors, docks, foundries and machine shops. The islands in the central Pacific which our forces have taken previously, such as Kwajalein and Eniwetok are mere fly-specks. But on the two big Mariana islands is ample room for bases of any size that may be needed.

Guam Next
Next immediate step in the campaign in the Marianas will unquestion-ably be the taking of Guam.

Bases in the Marianas will extend the punching power of Uncle Sam's far-ranging naval task forces and B-29 bombers to Tokyo and Manila.
But they will do more than that in the complicated Pacific war. Bases on Saipan and Guam will put Admiral Nimitz's fleet in position to support Gen. Douglas MacArthur's ambitious infantry when the American general has completed the conquest of New Guinea and the time comes for the longer overtime campaign for the larger overwater jumps his forces must make to the Philippines via Halmahera and other Dutch islands.

plane made a forced landing on the water but its crew was rescued by a destroyer.

New attacks Saturday against enemy installations in the Truk atoll
and on Jaluit, Mappela and Wofje
in the Marshalls, also was announced by Admiral Nimitz.

Jap Fleets Wary

Raiding Liberators of the seventh army force encountered several Jap aircraft over Truk but not ventured close enough to get a shot at or take a burst from the American airmen. Anti-aircraft fire caused minor damage to one Liberator.

Final organized resistance on Saipan was crushed Saturday after 25 days of the sharpest conflict yet witnessed in the Pacific war.

Although over-all casualties during the fierce island struggle have not been announced, War Correspondent Rembert James reported in a front line dispatch that "there was no question the enemy casualties would be large—probably 95 per cent of the Japanese garrison," whose original strength was estimated at more than 20,000 men.

Eastern air forces have plastered
the pocketed Japs daily while air and naval patrols operating off the coast continued to harass enemy coastal traffic.

Meanwhile, in the Armi-Maffin
bay area of Dutch New Guinea, U.
S. infantrymen have slain an additional 292 Japanese, bringing the known enemy losses there to 3,067, including 42 taken prisoners.

proved their positions and occupied the towns of Monte Poiesco and Villanova.

In the air, a force of R.A.F. heavy and medium night bombers attacked the railroad marshalling yards in the northern industrial city of Milan. They dropped many two-ton block-buster bombs and incendiaries to follow up daylight attacks against German-controlled communications and supply lines in northern Italy.

Fighter-bombers made attacks on Nazi rail and road communications north of the battle area and gave close support to Allied troops.

In all the Mediterranean, air forces flew 800 sorties losing only one plane in the night operations and none in the day missions.

FAITH

AN IDEA!

A lot of people get an idea in their head, but are a little slow to mention it. We have had one for a number of years, which we might let others laugh at, if they do not think as we do.

We did not mention this before, as it would be necessary to make some changes in the Constitution, and up until the present time, our Constitution was a very sacred article. But, now from the fact it is being kicked about a great deal, it might not be such a grave matter to propose changing it.

This plan of ours is, to do away with the Vice-President, and about one half of the Congressmen, change the Constitution so as to have three Presidents, divide the country into three districts, classified as to the things they produce, and elect a president each year, from one of these districts, term to be three years. We still believe there can be more than one man found in the United States at a time that is smart enough to be at the head of our Country.

In this way, when we changed horses in the middle of the stream, we would have a good team left to pull the country out of the mire. Also, in that case, there would be no chance of a Dictator, as there would always be two others his equal.

Two Children Are Burned To Death

Another Critically Burned As Fire Levels Home In Cambria County

JOHNSTOWN, Pa., July 11.—(INS)—Two children were burned to death and another was critically injured today when fire of undetermined origin leveled two buildings in Hastings, a northern Cambria county community.

The dead are Matthew, 14 months, and Louis, five years, children of Mr. and Mrs. Matthew Quick. The third child, Kenneth Quick, three years old, was critically burned.

The father of the three children is serving in the Navy.

The mother escaped the flames, but was taken to a hospital suffering from severe shock.

The Quick family occupied apartment quarters on the second floor of the binder hardware warehouse. The fire apparently started in the apartment. After destroying the binder building, the flames gutted the Routh general store.

The Matinee hotel and the Farretti building also were on fire, but counters from three nearby Cambria county towns succeeded in extinguishing the flames.

American Sub Is Reported Missing

Submarine S-28 Is Reported In Deep Water In Pacific While On Training Run

WASHINGTON, July 11.—(INS)—The submarine S-28 has been reported lost in deep water somewhere in the Pacific while on training exercises and the navy today abandoned all hope for its entombed crew estimated at 60 officers and men.

"The depth of water makes it impossible to salvage the submarine and hope has been abandoned for the recovery of the missing personnel."

The navy said there were no survivors and that the next of kin of the casualties have been notified. Scene of the action was not identified.

Lost with the crew was the submarine's skipper, Lt. Comdr. Jack Gordon Campbell, whose wife lives at Grotton, Conn.

No details were given beyond the fact that the S-28 "recently was accidentally lost in the Pacific while engaged in training exercises."

Bitter Fighting Ahead

Anyone who assumes that the war against Japan will be a simple matter now that territory close to Nippon has been captured and Japanese homeland cities are being bombed, would do well to ponder the recent remarks of Admiral Chester W. Nimitz and Navy Secretary James V. Forrestal.

While both men were optimistic concerning future progress in the Pacific, they called attention to the fighting which still lies ahead. Navy Secretary Forrestal said that logistically speaking we are getting close to the place where we can force the enemy in the Pacific to stand up and fight, but the fighting which the enemy will do when he is cornered will be bitter and costly.

"In battering down the outer rim of Japanese defenses, we have been successful, and that work has gone on at a somewhat faster pace than has been hoped for. The main battles, however, which will be necessary before Japanese power can be destroyed are still to come. It is likely that these final battles will occur on land, and that means the application of infantry power with all of the accompanying elements of assault over vast areas. The war in the Pacific goes well but it is a long war."

That the future land battles predicted by Secretary Forrestal will be tough ones also was indicated in Admiral Nimitz's remarks regarding the fighting on Saipan, where the foe's resistance, he admitted, was greater than expected. He pointed out that the attack on Saipan marked the first time that the Americans had assaulted and tried to seize a large land mass. Even on Bougainville, he said, it was necessary to take just a small part of the big island.

Admiral Nimitz warned that "we had not had an opportunity to test the efficacy" of the Japanese surface navy and that "we must assume their efficiency is as high as it was in the beginning."

Brig Gen. Breton B. Somervell, chief of the Army's services of supply, called attention to the fact that it is 475 miles to Berlin and Americans forces in Normandy have gone 15 miles. Unless the Germans collapse soon and suddenly, there is a hard fight ahead on the continent also.

The civilian at home must see in these statements compelling argument for staying on the job in the war plant and in aiding the nation's fighters by every means possible.

Near End Of The Road

The U. S. News, after analyzing the effect of current tax laws on business, concludes that "neither individuals nor corporations can be expected to risk money, increase production and provide jobs until tax rates are lowered. The rewards, in general, are too small for the chances to be taken." It adds, however, that "any plan to reduce taxes bumps up against the hard fact that the Treasury must have revenue—and vast amounts of it—to pay interest on the national debt, to care for veterans, to maintain an army and navy, and, finally, to operate the regular government departments."

For years the trend has been toward higher and higher taxes against productive enterprise. The war has hastened the trend until at last the end of the road has been reached.

From now on the bills of the Federal government will be paid by a majority of the people instead of a minority. And that goes for the debt too. Whenever a politician announces that the government is going to do this or that for the people, he really means that government is going to tax the people to do it. The government is not Santa Claus. It is merely the tax collector, and the people are beginning to realize it.

Targets 'n Japan

Repeated bombing of Japanese industrial concentrations by Superfortresses brings home the point that soon there will be many new Japanese place names in the headlines.

There are four main industrial centers in Japan. The most important of them is the Osaka-Kobe area, in the southern part of Japan. The two cities are 20 miles apart and along the 20-mile road are many industrial plants. The largest rubber factory in Japan is between the two cities.

Osaka is a city of more than 3,000,000 people and, as far back as 1936, it had 12,033 factories. It includes one of Japan's largest arsenals, Kobe has a population of approximately 1,000,000 and prior to the war was Japan's biggest center of international trade. It is the nation's greatest shipbuilding point. What the B-29s are going to do in the Kobe-Osaka district is well worth contemplating.

The next most important industrial concentration is in the Tokyo-Yokohama district. There are at least 10,000,000 people in the area, which leads the country in the manufacture of electric equipment and the making of precision machinery. Tokyo had 42,870 factories in 1937.

The third industrial center is Nagoya, located between Tokyo and Osaka, a city of more than 1,250,000 population, and now the main aircraft industry center of Japan. The fourth center is in the northern Kyushu district, the southernmost of the Japanese island group and the principal source of Japan's coal and iron.

The entire northern Kyushu sector has become heavily industrialized. It is the most likely area to be leveled first since it is no more than 1,000 miles from bases in China.

Those names should be memorized now. They're names of cities scheduled for the Hamburg-Berlin treatment—with interest.

It was to be expected but hardly so soon. In Frankfort, Ind., resides a man named Dewey Bricker.

Wonder what the common housefly used to carry on his feet and legs before germs were discovered?

Some slogans are meaningless, but Joe Stalin is taking seriously his chief rallying cry: "On to Berlin!"

American troops held a track meet in Rome, but were forced to cut it short to go racing after the Nazis.

If interest in the campaign leaves something to be desired, politicians should remember that c'est la guerre.

The Nazis will always be able to boast that in the final days of the war they killed many civilians with buzzbombs.

Japanese language can be mastered in a year, according to an expert, but by that time it probably will have been abolished.

It's about time for someone to spring a story about the old fellow who came into town the other day for the first time in four years and when told that a lot of people are boosting Dewey for president replied that he thought the Admiral was getting "a little too old."

Washington Calling

By MARQUIS CHILDS

Henry Ford

DETROIT, Michigan, July 11.—Henry Ford, the dining room in the Dearborn engineering laboratory in Greenfield Village is paneled in early American pine, but the air conditioning is strictly modern.

Henry Ford's whole life is like that—a strange blending of old and new, of what is past and what is still on the way. That may be, in fact, an explanation of the genius that has done so much to change the habits of mankind.

Today at 81—he'll soon be 82—Henry Ford looks as well-preserved as canny, as shrewd, as he did 20 years ago. The flicker of his genius, his aliveness, is in his eyes which move quickly, piercingly, when they are not veiled in contemplation.

You realize talking with him that his mind runs in much the same channels it did when he was in mid-career. He never ceases being thankful for the fact he is not responsible to stockholders. Except for a small fraction, the stock of the billion dollar Ford Company is held by Old Henry and the members of his family.

Would Be Handicapped

If you had stockholders, you couldn't do the things you wanted to do. You couldn't build schools for the workers on your rubber plantation in the Amazon Valley. You couldn't fiddle around with little experiments that sometimes produce startling results.

Ford is acutely conscious that his company is the last big enterprise which is not controlled by eastern capital. His suspicion of the New York bankers comes out of his own fierce struggle in the automotive field and it's rooted, too, in his own sense of himself as a midlander.

In spite of all his power, Henry Ford seems to regard himself as he did when he was a young man tinkering around with the horseless carriage. He's a citizen doing a hard day's work every day, who has put together a good, sizeable family business.

Ford has a scorn for idlers for men who don't earn their bread by the sweat of their brow. That's one thing he finds wrong with the system of stockholding—it produces dividends who encourage people to live in idleness.

On the young man seated on his right, all Henry Ford's hopes centered. Ford II, 28 years old, tall, broad-shouldered, learning the business. At the death of Edsel Ford, his father, Henry II was retired to inactive duty from the Navy to help run the Ford Company's vast war industry. Young Henry's two brothers, Benson and William, are in the armed services.

Henry II Is Hope

Henry II describes himself modestly as an apprentice. He's under the tutelage of his grandfather and of Harry Bennett, formerly head of the Ford police system and now in a key position in the Ford empire.

One thing that struck me most forcibly was that in spite of the nearly 60 years that separate them and all that has happened in those 60 years, the thinking of young Henry and old Henry seems to follow pretty well along the same line. Allowing for differences of background and education—young Henry went to Yale although he did not graduate—I should guess that they look at life from the same angle.

The grandfather is now teaching the grandson about farming—old and new. They like a little between themselves about it. Young Henry frankly admits his ignorance. Old Henry talks in his easy, muted voice about the difference between a sythe and a now obsolete implement called a cradle, which in the past was used in haying.

He talks, too, about soy beans and early Ford experiments with this crop. Soy bean milk, made by crushing the bean, is going to do away with the cow. The cow has hardly ten years left to go. To prove that good soy bean milk is he sends out to the kitchen for a glass of it for me to drink. It isn't bad, but I think the cow has a chance.

About the future, Henry II is emphatically optimistic. He'll make even cheaper cars if the government doesn't stifle competition, and he'll be in production within a few weeks of the war's end. Henry I and Henry II are working hard to cement a family partnership: to keep a family business in the family no matter what tumultuous changes the postwar era may bring.

WEAPONS WITHOUT TARGETS

It is probable that the flying bombs of the Nazis are doing a lot of damage in England. The answer to this odd invasion has not yet been found. Shooting the pilotless planes down in flight is a poor defense, and ties up fighting strength. Locating the source of the bombs is difficult.

Their attacks may have small military value, but the effect of their blind fury on civilian nerves is probably serious. They are a terror which flies by night and day, coming from nowhere and striking anywhere. Inevitably they hit more homes than factories or arsenals, more civilians than soldiers, more women and children than fighting men.

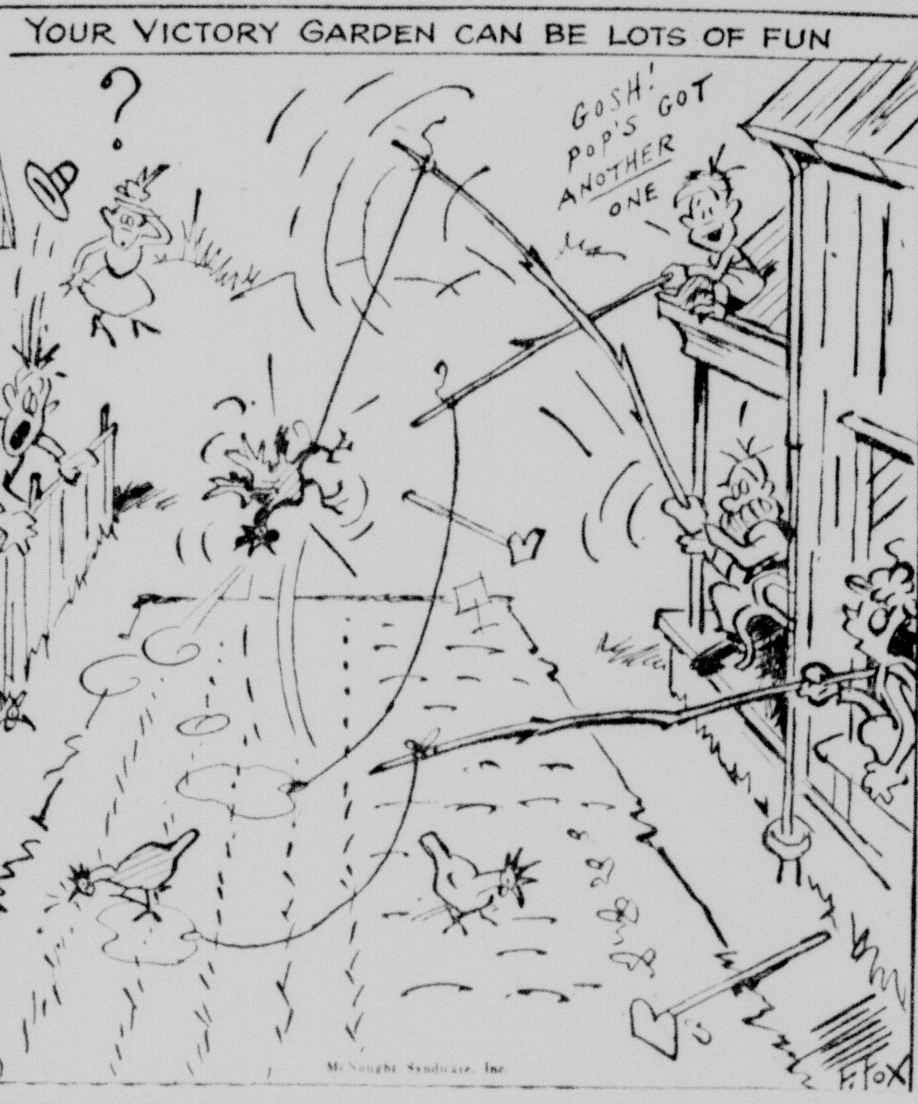

They are deadly weapons, yet they have no targets. It is strange that they were never used against military targets, not even against the mighty invasion fleets. Almost it seems part of the Nazi plan to use them wantonly.

This robot bomb is an epitome of scientific and mechanical power applied to destructive purpose. How can there be lasting peace in the world unless such power is checked?—Philadelphia Evening Bulletin.

We're just waiting for the President to decide to take over our business, and when he does, he'll send along a couple of good fighters, for when he has the army carry the old overcoat of the republic, he'll send somebody better on hand to do quite a lot of the work.—Goodland, Kan. News.

The other fellow's problem is your problem.

To understand the other fellow, you must look at things thru his perspective. We must learn to put ourselves in the other fellow's place. He may be right and you may be wrong, but unless you "stand in his shoes" you cannot see things from his point of view.

Your employer has his problems. Many of them. He is as anxious as you are that you be satisfied and content in your job. Unless you are he cannot possibly hope to succeed.

In turn, the employer must view things from Labor's viewpoint. He too has his useful position in this world that can be ignored if management is to grow and expand.

Each wage earner must have an opportunity to advance—to do something better than he is—to do this, he must be coached and trained so he may assume greater responsibilities.

The great majority of American workmen do not work for wages alone. They want to feel they are understood and appreciated.

If management will view things thru the spectacles of the other fellow, there would be less misunderstanding, more industrial production and greater national unity.

The American wage earner is not un-American. He or she went to the same elementary schools and studied the same lessons as did Management—neither want to see our form of government changed so it is up to both Management and Labor to realize that the other fellow's problem is his problem.

Walker Points Way To Future

Noted Economic Expert Says All Classes Must Cooperate To Bring Prosperity

SAYS AMERICA IS BEING WEIGHED

Members of the various service clubs of the city were guests of the New Castle Rotary club, Monday noon, when they were addressed by DeLoss Walker, of Chicago, nationally known speaker on economic problems who spoke on the topic "Forward Now To a Better America."

Mr. Walker stated that the power of America was only the power of Main street, whether it was New Castle or any other city. Main street in most cities was awfully weak during the depression, he stated.

While planned leadership is needed after the war, Mr. Walker said, there must be co-operation from every class of people and there must be an opportunity for people to invest their money, earn a profit, and be permitted to keep that portion of the profit which rightfully belongs to them. People are not going to invest their money unless they are assured it is protected.

Has Faith In America
Mr. Walker stated that he had enough faith in the future of America to believe that we can pay off the war debt with the new opportunities which are going to be created at the close of the war, and that we are going to build wealth that will stagger one's imagination. However, in order to do this, he asserted, we must have skilled and loyal labor. They must not take the fruits of capitalism.

County C. E. Lawn Picnic Meeting

Echo Reports Of State Convention: Union Will Help Raise Fund For Secretary

Lawrence County Christian Endeavor Union met recently at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Rodgers of Plaingrove for its July meeting in the form of a picnic held on the lawn.

Following the meal, the evening meeting was an echo meeting of the state C. E. Convention held in Chambersburg June 19-25. The following girls who represented our county at the convention gave reports or echoes of it: Aleta Montgomery, Leora McCommon, Gay Shaw, Ruth Gardner, Thelma Thompson, Thelma Bumbaugh. Also the group from Butler county gave brief reports of the convention.

Chaplain Clyde P. Roland of the U. S. Army, stationed at Camp Van Dorn, Miss., was there accompanied by his sister, Miss Enid Roland of New Canton, Ill. The president of the Western District C. E. Union, Ernest Bauer from Butler was here with five others from the Butler County Union. Also Lynn Matlack, supply minister of the Madison Avenue Christian church was introduced to the group.

Chaplain Roland, former pastor of the Madison Avenue Christian church and pastor counselor of the Lawrence County C. E. Union, then was called upon and he told many interesting incidents of his work since entering the army.

The group voted to help raise the money which was pledged at Chambersburg to finance a third state secretary. Pennsylvania is the only state at present which has two full time secretaries and hopes by fall to have three. If the state raises $10,000.00 it will be given an equal amount by a benefactor.

Out-Door Service Report
A report was given on the first Sunday evening out-door meeting held July 2 on the lawn of the First Christian church under the auspices of the Union and the Ministerial Association. The committee from this group is Aleta Montgomery, Kenneth Gaston, Rev. James N. Rainey, Ruth Gardner and Thelma Bumbaugh and Mary Elizabeth Norris, and Clair Galbraith.

The meeting adjourned with the forming of the friendship circle under the direction of Thelma Thompson, social superintendent of the county, was in charge of the arrangements for the evening.

AROUND CITY HALL

Bowing to C. H. Young, district representative, State Sanitary Water and Sewage board, council on Monday adopted a resolution "assuring" that the city would float another bond issue of $75,000, for repairs at the sewage disposal plant. When that time will be council stated it does not know. Only recently council sold $60,000 worth of bonds for repairs to the main sewer to the plant and also the outfalls sewer. Mr. Young asked this assurance prior to the state's approval of the proposed plant repairs.

Council has been holding off on a decision because they have not desired to put the city on record. They have had the attitude, Councilman Davies said, that Mr. Young wanted the city to do too much at one time. However, before plans would be approved Young wanted the "assurance". Councilman A. H. Hoyland called the affair "ridiculous" but finally council agreed to pass the resolution demanded of Property Director J. D. Alexander by the state official.

Council approved an agreement between the city and Eccles & Caruthers for the repair of the city hall lower front room for a delinquent tax office.

Council on Monday shifted responsibility from Treasurer B. N. Hanlon to Solicitor R. M. White, for the collection of $26,601.43 city property 1943 delinquent tax, the same having been filed with the solicitor by Mr. Hanlon July 3.

Council has been invited by Joseph Green, president local realty board, to hear Thomas B. Stockman, president State Realty association at The Castleton, July 17 tell of plans whereby the association hopes to have the state eliminate part or all of school taxes on real estate.

Property-owners in Vogan street between Huron avenue and the city line asked council to establish a grade so they can build sidewalks. The petition was referred to the city engineer.

Council authorized the payment of $1,200, to the Lawrence Savings & Trust company for damages in widening State street hill.

Paint Sad Picture For Jap Citizens

NEW YORK, July 11.—(INS)—The Tokyo radio, warning the home front to beware of new American attacks on the Bonin Islands, Monday painted a dark picture of the striking power of the United States fleet and finally worked itself into a fit of pique and sheer exasperation.

At that point, according to U. S. government monitors, the announcer apparently turned the whole thing over to more powerful forces than the elusive Japanese navy and blurted:

"We can imagine the day when the black current of the mighty Pacific ocean will rise in anger and swallow up the boasting American fleet into the bottom of the ocean."

Makes Knives Just In Case Of Need

Camp Reynolds Soldier Spends All Spare Time In Making Knives

GREENVILLE, Pa., July 11.—Demonstrating the ingenuity for which the American soldier is noted, T-5 Denzil Miller, Camp Reynolds station hospital patient, spends his time fashioning knives and other cutlery from discarded bits of metal.

He recently completed a hand fashioned hunting knife that is attracting considerable attention among his fellow patients and hospital attendants. The blade is of bur-nished steel. The handle is inlaid with copper, aluminum, brass and leather. Heavy brass is used in the hilt. The knife represents two and one-half months of hard work by Miller. He uses only files, sandpaper, emery cloth and an oilstone in his work.

Besides the hunting knife he has made innumerable paring knives and other cutlery from discarded power saw blades. In addition to his metal fashioning Cpl. Miller produces some exceptional leather work.

Miller is a member of the headquarters detachment, fourth group and hails from Sheridan, Ind.

Plan Development Of Pymatuning Lake

New Head Of Lake Association Says Backing Of New Castle Needed For New Projects

"With the help of New Castle, Sharon, Youngstown and Pitts-burgh, the Pymatuning Lake Association could be a factor in making the lake a recreational spot," says George V. Clanton of Westford, recently elected president of the association.

Already the lake has saved Sharon, New Castle and the Beaver Valley from flood damage equal to five times the estimated $6,000,000 cost of the project, according to Clanton. It also guarantees the water supply to the Shenango and Beaver River valleys.

Believing the area can be developed to become one of the most popular outdoor recreational spots in the inland district of Western Pennsylvania, the Association is planning the building of a 70-mile shore line highway, and the establishment of several parks. The plotting of cottage sections, the erection of a club house, and the building of several bathing beaches are also being considered.

Pymatuning Lake covers 15,420 acres of land, over 5,000 of which are in Ashtabula county, Ohio; 3,000 of which are in Mercer county, and the rest of which is Crawford county.

PIN-WORMS Now can be Beaten!

The miseries of Pin-Worms have been known for centuries, and many doctors have sought a way to deal with this dreadful pest that lives and grows inside the human body.

Today, thanks to an important scientific discovery, a new and highly effective treatment is being hailed by medical authorities. It is based on a remarkable drug known as Pin-Worm. This drug is the vital element in P.W., the new Pin-Worm Viallet developed by the laboratories of Dr. D. Jayne & Son, America's leading specialists in worm medicines.

P.W. makes it unnecessary for you or your child to suffer in silence with the embarrassing rectal itch caused by Pin-Worms, or to take chances on the real distress they often create. The small, easy-to-take P-W tablets act in a special way to destroy Pin-Worms.

So watch for possible warning signs such as itching seat and nose, uneasy stomach, bed-wetting, nervous fidgeting. If you suspect Pin-Worms, ask your druggist for a package of P-W and follow the simple directions carefully.

It is easy to remember: P-W for Pin-Worms!

in a series of ads on post-war opportunities

The question of post-war jobs—especially for returning veterans—is a big one and a live one. It will get more so as the war comes nearer its end.

Our own job security plan for Esso Marketers' employees now in uniform went into operation the day after Pearl Harbor. It has worked so well for so long that we want to pass our experience along.

In general, it is based on the idea that we are saving his place for our fighting man while he's away, whether he volunteered, was drafted, or was called up as a reservist. Chief features of the plan are these . . .

1. Each employee who has been with us a year or longer is given two months' salary as he enters the armed forces.

2. His dependents receive monthly payments from the company while he is away—up to half of his former company pay.

3. Each employee has been assured by letter from our company president that his old job—or another as good or better—will be waiting for him. Experience gained in the Armed Forces may result in his immediate advancement.

4. His rights in company retirement and benefit plans are protected while he is away.

DETAILS of the plan have been put into a booklet which we shall be glad to send you.

Soon we will announce in this newspaper further plans for making some good new jobs in the oil business after the war.

As we see it today, next to winning the war itself, nothing is more important than the matter of post-war jobs.

Don't Eat 'Em Green; Ripen 'Em This Way

Grocer Explains Correct Way To Ripen Bananas; Warmth And Moisture Does It

Apparently bananas have to be shipped as green as you've been seeing them in the stores lately, but you don't have to eat them that way, according to Ernest Frediani.

With wartime difficulties in transportation making delays in shipping quite probable, the shippers can't take chances of sending bananas ripe enough to squish. Consequently, housewives have been buying green bananas lately.

Here's the Trouble

Where the complaints come in, Mr. Frediani says, is when the housewives try to ripen the fruit. With a little bit of work, it can be done in two or three days.

Some persons stick the green bananas into the refrigerator as soon as they get home. That's bad. Others put them in the sun. That's worse. In the sun, they will get soft, but not really ripe, explains the grocer. The skin stays green and gets hard, because the moisture is being taken from it.

The really effective process is to wrap the bananas in warm, wet cloths, and place them in a dark place that's not too cool. They should be remoistened four or five times a day, and in three days not only will be soft, but the skins will be yellow and the taste will be almost as if they had just been pulled off the tree.

Sun Bathing Has Many Dangers

STATE COLLEGE, Pa., July 11.—(INS)—Vacationers, forced by the transportation shortage to substitute backyard sun bathing for their usual trips to the shore, were warned today that the dangers of sun bathing are frequently much greater than the beneficial results.

Dr. Hans Neuberger, Pennsylvania State College "weather man," said sun bathing can be beneficial only in small doses, reminding that painful sunburn and heat strokes, as well as skin cancer may result from over-exposure.

"Ability to withstand sun," he explained, "is an individual matter but no one should make the mistake of remaining too long in the hot sun." He described the hours from 10:30 a. m. to 4 p. m. as "particularly dangerous."

The therapeutic effect of sunbathing in the production of vitamin D in the skin, the expert said, it would be less dangerous—and probably more effective, he added—to acquire vitamin D internally through food.

TO put a single 155mm gun in action at the front and maintain it for a year, requires a total of 3603 ship tons.

That's an average of nearly 10 tons of transportation a day for each gun!

And, this doesn't include transportation of the 134 officers and men in the battery, and their supplies.

As thousands of these big guns roll up to the front to blast enemy positions, the job of Erie and other American Railroads becomes bigger and bigger.

For it is the immediate responsibility of your railroads to keep not only these guns and supplies, but hundreds of thousands of other items, rolling from the production lines to the battle lines.

With the continued help of the public, shippers, and government agencies, your railroads will keep the vital war loads rolling on to hasten the day of victory.

Price Board Checks Second-Hand Prices

Posters Explaining Two Classifications Of Used Goods Must Be Displayed

As the result of complaints received from the public on sales at over ceiling prices of used or second-hand goods such as beds, furniture, stove, lamps and other items, a compliance survey of all dealers in these used goods has been completed by the Price Panel board in accordance with the Pittsburgh district OPA office, it is announced.

Used goods are in two classifications, class I in which no part is missing and which is in good working condition, and other used goods which need some repair. Class I goods may be sold at higher prices than other used goods.

Posters explaining the difference between these two classes, as well as the prices that could be charged for either, were not displayed at many of the stores of the district, the report states.

Also some of the dealers did not have the merchandise properly labeled. All articles which sell at more than $2 must be tagged with the correct selling price, according to the OPA regulation. These precautions are to prevent overcharging on goods which are much in demand.

All violations in the district have been corrected, the Pittsburgh office says. Compliance among local second-hand dealers is now satisfactory, adds the local War Price and Rationing Board.

Caen Civilians Are Cleaning Up

With Stoic Calm, Citizens
Of French Town Start
Cleaning Up Debris

By CHARLES LYNCH
Reuters Special Correspondent
(Distributed by U. S. S.)

WITH THE CANADIANS IN CAEN, July 11.—(INS)—The stoic people of Caen began to clean up their battered city Monday even while fighting was still going on in one section of it.

From the pitiful ruins they waved at passing soldiers and made the V sign.

Hundreds of them gathered in front of the Abbey Aux Hommes and shouted "Vive La France" and "Vive Les Allies."

The story of Caen is not the story of the soldiers who took it or the soldiers who have been driven from it—it is the story of the people whose lives have been one long nightmare since the night of June 6th when the city was first bombed and they knew that war had come to Normandy.

Immediately upon entering Caen this morning I went to the hospital of the Good Saviour to find out the truth about casualties in the city.

Doctor Jean Cayla, chief medical health officer for the department of Calvados, said up to today 1,265 wounded had been treated since D day. All of them were treated at the hospital of the Good Saviour where Doctor Cayla made his headquarters and have six surgical teams at work.

NEWS AND VIEWS AT CAPITAL

(By International News Service)

HARRISBURG, July 11.—The meeting of the state post war planning commission July 20 probably will result in the first definite recommendations for urgently needed improvements in Pennsylvania since postwar improvements have been publicized. . . . so far, scores of proposals have been made by various officials and agencies ranging from roadside fishponds to expanded aeronautical facilities and a half-billion dollar sewage disposal project. . . . Gov. Edward Martin believes the commission, acting as a coordinating agency, can end the confusion that has surrounded postwar planning as a result of projects suggested by publicity-conscious officials and organizations.

The halls of the General Assembly probably will be the sounding board for postwar projects when the biennial session is convened January 1, 1945. . . . Rep. Ellwood J. Turner of Delaware, former Republican speaker of the House, has made no secret of several pet projects he will attempt to persuade the legislature to approve. . . . if the war in Europe has ended by January, it will be the signal for assemblymen to jam legislative hoppers with postwar measures embracing every conceivable subject.

Governor Martin's press conferences have developed into some of the most interesting meetings newspapermen have had with any chief executive in recent years. . . . The governor's long experience in the Army has given him a keen insight into World War II and as a retired major general he enjoys the confidence of many ranking officers.

His analysis of the war is always off the record but the governor has been more accurate than some so-called military analysts. . . . It is unfortunate his off-the-record observations on life, politics, the war and personalities probably will never be printed. . . . They could be combined into a best seller.

Two vacancies exist in the House of Representatives that will be filled by county committees prior to the general election November 7. One seat was left vacant by the death of Republican Assemblyman H. David Sarge of Lebanon, while Rep. Alfred C. Alspaugh, R Lancaster, has been commissioned a lieutenant (jg) in the U. S. Navy. . . . Both were candidates for reelection.

Tired Kidneys Often Bring Sleepless Nights

Doctors say your kidneys contain 15 miles of tiny tubes or filters which help to purify the blood and keep you healthy. When they get tired and don't work right in the daytime, many people have to get up nights. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder. Don't neglect this condition and lose valuable, restful sleep. . . . When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may also cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. . . . Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give bumpy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

tion Association has made public a statement by C. O. Williams, head of the teacher placement bureau for the Pennsylvania State college, urging equal selections of men and women teachers to assure a "balanced educational program." . . . He expressed fear that many of the male teachers now in the armed forces will not return to their posts after the war chiefly because of the relatively low salaries. . . . In addition, Williams said, the men who have known the excitement of war and experienced freedom from social restrictions imposed on teachers in some communities will hesitate to return to classroom routine and the "model behavior" demanded of them.

Governor Martin Will Urge Moving Of Penitentiaries

HARRISBURG, July 11.—(INS)—Gov. Edward Martin prepared today to recommend to the general assembly in 1945 the removal of the Eastern and Western State Penitentiaries from present locations, because they are "poorly located and outmoded."

"I will recommend to the legislature the removal of both the Eastern and Western Penitentiaries when it is feasible to do so," the chief executive stated at his news conference late yesterday. Western Penitentiary is located at Pittsburgh while Eastern is at Philadelphia.

A five-member committee appointed by the governor to investigate the state's eight penal institutions urged the removal of the penitentiaries from the large cities.

The governor would not commit himself on the new prison locations, but said "we will not use land that produces lots of food." "We will submit a plan to the legislature which will include costs and recommendations from various committees and the welfare department," Governor Martin declared.

He said he believed that a prison was needed in the "western" part of the state for delinquent girls. "I think that it isn't practicable to have boys and girls together," he added.

Hearing Is Held On Increased Rates

WASHINGTON, July 11.—(INS)—The Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission joined with the Interstate Commerce Commission in hearings at Washington today on the reasonableness of increased rates proposed by 170 truckers operating within the state.

The hearings were combined to speed a decision, a spokesman said, because the truckers operate public routes having combined PUC and ICC certificates. Allen Leiby of Harrisburg represented the PUC.

In June alone the record was 5,437,000,000. Even last year's high record was exceeded by 7 per cent, all of which shows good cooperation with the war effort on the part of the hens of the country.

Lieut. Goldblum In Pittsburgh Today

Former Titan Floor Star Who Was Marooned In Canyon Will See All-Star Game

PITTSBURGH, July 11.—(INS)—Lt. Charles Goldblum, who, with two other companions parachuted from a bomber into Grand Canyon, and was stranded there for 10 days, today wants to do only two things.

The former Westminster College basketball star says one of them is to "go down the street at 12 o'clock and rub elbows with people. After all, it was pretty lonely on Tonto Plateau." The other is to see the all-star baseball game tonight.

The air force lieutenant arrived in Pittsburgh last night and revealed that the parachute jump was the first he ever made.

"Of all places, I had to pick the canyon," the southside flier chuckled. "After this, I'll never be afraid to jump again and even landing on a beachhead will be easy."

Do not allow iron pots and pans to remain damp or wet for any length of time. Dry them immediately and thoroughly.

PITTSBURGH, July 11.—(INS)—Helen Hrinisin, whose condition today was reported steadily improving, has given authorities a more detailed description of her assailant and has retracted one of the statements she previously made.

The 10-year-old Blawnox girl who was lured into an automobile, driven to Fox Chapel, attacked and stabbed, July 4, said she was not positive now that the car was gray. Today five suspects were scheduled to be taken to the hospital, where detectives will ask Helen to determine whether one of them was the man who attacked her.

PRESENTS

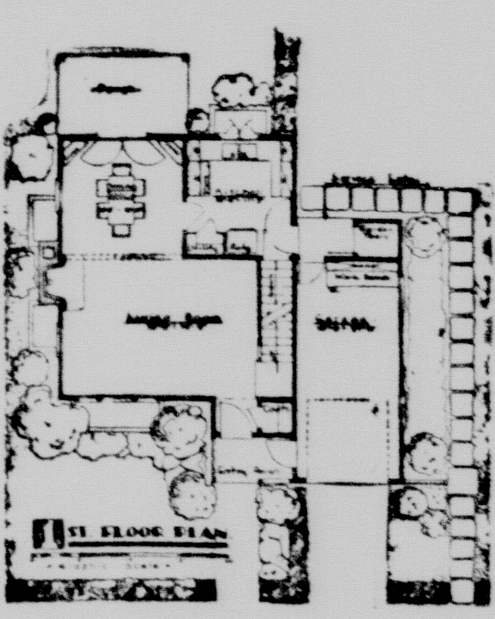

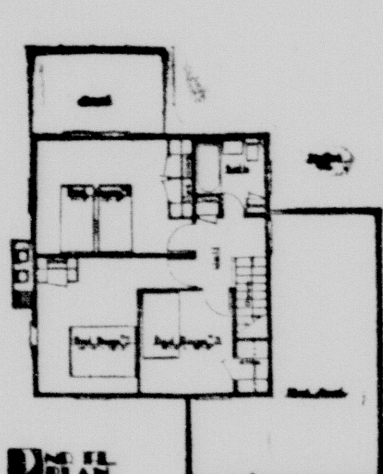

"THE GLENROCK"

HOUSE OF THE MONTH
For JULY

Architect George D. Conner, one of America's foremost small house designers, who created this House of the Month, summarizes it in his usual concise form as a straight forward adaptation of Colonial Architecture.

Somewhat larger than the usual House of the Month, it has been designed for the family that requires the usual six rooms with at least three bedrooms. The main portion of the house is of perfect box construction which, of course, is the most economical type of house that can be built. All rooms are unusually large and well arranged. The attached garage extends the facade and provides a pleasing break in the roof at a minimum of additional cost.

Join New Castle's Home Planners' Club now and receive these plans monthly along with other valuable information about your future Dream Home. Complete blueprints and specifications are now on display at First Federal's offices.

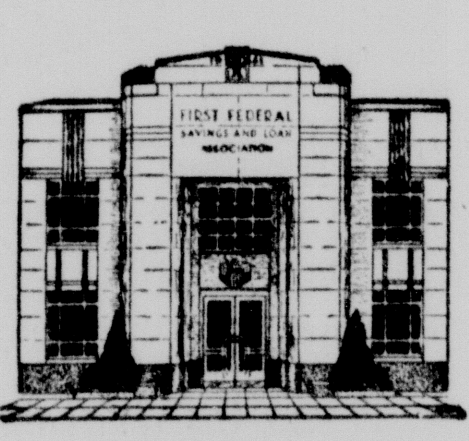

ATTENTION, WIVES and SWEETHEARTS OF VETERANS

On June 22nd, President Roosevelt signed the "G. I. Bill of Rights" which authorizes a broad program of benefits for veterans of this war. Coincident with the signing, he read a statement in which he expressed the hope that Congress would soon provide comparable benefits for the members of the Merchant Marine.

Every G. I. Joe and Jane is probably spending his or her moments of relaxation in dreaming of what it will mean to them . . . how it will help them to realize their plans for the future. All of the loved ones on the home front with men and women in the service will also begin to share in these dreams.

The highlight of the bill that will directly benefit you is this: A veteran may apply for a government guarantee (not exceeding 50% of a loan) for the purchase of a home, business, farm or equipment. The government's maximum guarantee will not exceed $20,000, though no limit will be set on the amount which may be borrowed.

Brutal German Officer Slain

American Officer Sees Nazis Shooting At Wounded Yanks, Gets Fighting Mad

By JOHN E. LEE
(U.S. Staff Correspondent)

WITH THE FIRST U. S. ARMY IN NORMANDY, July 10.—(Despatch)—An American commander of a mechanized cavalry squadron leading a patrol in the Les Mesnil Angot area last night caught a group of German SS men red-handed in the act of shooting wounded Yanks.

The squadron commander, Lieut. Col. Hollis Buena Vista, Cal., who was so infuriated at the sight of the Nazis slaughtering the injured men that he emptied his carbine at them, killing one officer and probably hitting several others.

Things Get Hot

The commander, who is a former University of Georgia football star, told the story this way:

"We were patrolling near Les Mesnil Angot last night. We consolidated our patrol at a corner and started up the road to our right. Things began to get hot. The German SS troops were using hand grenades against us in addition to machine guns and tommy guns. We were finally pinned down in a ditch near two of our tanks which were on fire a little way ahead. We had run into an enemy strong-point. After a while three of my men were able to get back but I lay still in the ditch.

"The Germans apparently thought we were either all gone or dead and jumped into the road and were silhouetted against the burning tanks. I could see the outline of their helmets.

Suffered Losses

"Then I saw three or four of them with burp guns—automatic pistols—spraying our wounded men on the ground. Some of them appeared to be acting under orders, but there was one arrogant individual who was apparently an officer. He was shooting wounded Yanks with a Luger automatic and was obviously taking pleasure in doing it.

"I got the officer about getting back, but this made things different. I emptied my carbine at them and kept shooting until I had used all my ammunition.

"I got the officer and sprayed the others, but I don't know whether I hit anybody but that officer.

"After that I got back and gathered up my men. I counted noses. We had taken some losses, including two of the finest officers I have ever seen. But I don't think we were as badly hurt as they hurt the Germans."

Says Teachers Must Exercise Citizenship

PITTSBURGH, July 11.—(INS)—Elementary school principals and teachers must exercise their rights as citizens if they are properly to educate future citizens, Mrs. Edith B. Joyner today urged a group of 250 nation-wide elementary school principals.

Mrs. Joyner, addressing the seventh annual conference on elementary education, an organization sponsored by the National Education Association conducted this year in connection with the University of Pittsburgh, the conference has as its theme: "The elementary school—preparing for citizenship."

"American people appreciate good schools but their too frequent unwillingness to follow through in achieving them must be met increasingly by school personnel in keeping the public informed," she said in urging principals to become leaders in their community.

The schools of Oakland, Cal., have taken a most active part in meeting problems of juvenile delinquency. Mrs. Sarah L. Young, principal of the Parker school, of Oakland, told the principals in outlining the work of the committees of the community council that has developed out of the school's efforts to meet the problem.

State Takes Over Air Raid Warnings

PITTSBURGH, July 11.—(INS)—Despite the fact that there is an acute shortage of volunteers to man the main control centers of the Allegheny council of defense, plans were being made today for the center to take over the job of alerting 15 other counties in case of air raid or disaster.

Approximately 300 volunteers, who have been doing this work, have willingly agreed to take on the extra job of spreading emergency warnings to 16 western Pennsylvania counties.

The extra counties were added by the state council of defense after the army shifted to the commonwealth the entire responsibility for sending out air raid warnings.

Last month the army eliminated the air raid warning center in Buffalo. In the future, warnings will be flashed from the Third Army Corps headquarters at Baltimore, Md., to Harrisburg, the alerts will then be sent from Harrisburg to Pittsburgh.

Reconversion Of Industry Argued

WPB Chairman Nelson And Congress Backed By Army On Partial Reconversion Of Industry

WASHINGTON, July 11.—(INS)—War Mobilization Director James F. Byrnes faced the task today of weighing the progress of Allied arms and deciding whether the time is ripe to start on gradual reconversion of American industry.

WPB Chairman Donald M. Nelson, backed by congressional sentiment, has proposed to relax certain WPB controls to permit a resumption of essential civilian goods manufacturing wherever it will not interfere with direct war production. Army and Navy leaders have opposed Nelson's program, urging delay in any relaxation until Germany is nearer collapse for fear that attempts at general reconversion now might develop into a stampede that would gravely injure the war output.

May Compromise
Spokesmen on both sides of the argument said there was no disagreement on the desirability of returning to civilian pursuits as soon as possible. The only point of controversy is that of "timing," which will go to Byrnes for decision. A compromise verdict is believed likely.

Until the war mobilization chief makes his determination the series of WPB reconversion orders apparently will languish in the WPB clearance committee.

Nelson, convalescing at his home from a siege of pneumonia, is understood to be writing a reply to the military argument, pointing that the orders do not mean wholesale reconversion but only limited civilian production under careful safeguards.

Wolves Club Picnic July 16

Reservations for the guests of all members are to be handed in by Friday, noon. A. N. Carbon is in charge of the prizes and donations, and all members will arrive with their prize gifts at the picnic grounds. The committee is working hard to make this one of the most successful of summer outings.

In the evening, a light lunch will be served and refreshments. July 18, is the next regular meeting for their club.

Potato Prices Are Set By OPA

WASHINGTON, July 11.—(INS)—OPA today announced nationwide prices for the entire 1944 potato crop and set dollar and cent prices for this year's crop of sweet potatoes.

Prices for the white potatoes are practically identical to those established for the 1943 crop but those on sweet potatoes will average about ten cents per pound a reduction from present levels. The new prices for both crops become effective July 15.

Potato prices for the month of July range from highs of $3 per hundredweight in Maryland and $2.50 in Vermont, to lows of $2.50 per hundredweight in Utah and $2.60 in Idaho.

Five Of Escaped Prisoners Caught

TONIA, Mich., July 11.—(INS)—Five youthful Nazi prisoners who escaped from the Lake Odessa prison camp were back under guard today after being apprehended in a brush thicket last night by a deputy sheriff.

The prisoners were being questioned to learn whether they had been aided in their escape by women living near the camp.

Three other prisoners who escaped at approximately the same time Sunday from a prison camp at Fremont, 20 miles northeast of Muskegon, were still at large.

Letter Confirms Missing Report

Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Stevens Of Countyline Street Receive Message From Adjutant General

Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Stevens, of 504 Countyline street, have received a letter from Adjutant General J. A. Ulio, confirming the previous report that their son, Lt. Hustus F. Stevens, has been missing in action since June 17, over the Island of Truk.

"No details have been received at this office, other than the 'Missing Air Crew' report General Ulio states, which was sent by the Commanding General of the Army Air Forces. The term, 'Missing in action,' is used only to indicate that the whereabouts or status of the individual is not immediately known and every effort is exerted continuously to clear the status of our personnel. Permit me to extend heartfelt sympathy during this period of uncertainty."

Lt. Hustus F. Stevens was a bombardier on a B-24 with the 13th Air Force and had written his parents on June 9, describing his first mission as "something one will not easily forget." Also, a letter was received dated June 16, in which he said he was happy that his mail had started to catch up with him, and that he had received 17 letters. In a previous letter he had asked that the News be continued as it was, just like a letter from home each day.

Lt. Stevens was graduated from New Castle High with the class of '41 and was a student at Westminster College when he enlisted in the air corps on December 31, 1942. He was called into active service on April 10, 1943 at Nashville, Tenn. He graduated from pre-flight at Santa Ana, Calif.; gunnery at Las Vegas, Nev.; and was commissioned a second lieutenant on February 5, 1944, at Carlisle, Pa. He was assigned to the Replacement Depot at Fresno, Calif., and got his combat training at Tonopah, Nev.

Lt. Stevens enjoyed a short leave in February with another local boy, Lt. Orville Flora, who received his wings with Lt. Stevens.

Sugar Applications Increase In June

More than a few jars of cherries and applesauce can be put up with the 245,680 pounds of sugar for which coupons have been sent out, according to a report of the local Ration board.

Most persons waited until June when the fresh fruit began coming in before they sent for their coupons. Only 1980 pounds were released in April, the board said. May was a little livelier, with 64,040 pounds applied for, but the big rush came in June, when coupons for 179,660 pounds were sent out.

No Robot Bombs Hurled In Night; Resume Today

LONDON, July 11.—(INS)—After London had enjoyed its first night of respite from German robot bombs in almost a month, the treacherous missiles came over again today on a smaller scale than usual, hitting both the capital and southern England.

Comparatively few of the bombs crossed the coast and still fewer reached London. The Evening Standard said the battle against the robots may now have reached the "clearing point." The last full-scale robot attack was on Friday night when more than 200 bombs were sent over in eight hours. Dozens were destroyed by coastal defenses and others inland.

Since then there have been no heavy attacks. They are believed to have slackened off because of tactical bombing of launching-ramps and communications; heavy attacks by strategic bombers on supply bases and assembly plants deep in France and Germany, and better combined air and anti-aircraft defenses.

One Good Rainmaker Is Sorely Needed

PITTSBURGH, July 11.—(INS)—Wanted for western Pennsylvania. One extra special good rainmaker who'll guarantee to produce.

With the temperature today once again soaring into the nineties, rain was in heavy demand as relief from the heat and to save what's left of victory and other gardens.

In the Pittsburgh area only .01 of an inch of rain has fallen since July 1, and, as one meteorologist explained, "that's not much."

Another Barrier On Black Market Gas

HARRISBURG, July 11.—(INS)—The Office of Price Administration announced new regulations today in an intensified effort to curb the gasoline black market.

Drivers of fleets of officials or commercial motor vehicles, under new plans, may use ration "checks" when paying for gasoline the OPA stated. By eliminating handling of ration coupons by drivers, it was expected that "floating" coupons will be driven out of circulation, it was explained.

Come Pretty Pussy

A NAME isn't everything and Lieut. Louis A. Oder, former Dawson, Ill., educator and now ground school instructor of aviation cadets at Eagle Pass Army airfield, can prove it. He is shown above with his boon companion, a pet skunk which is as innocent of odor as is Lieutenant Oder himself. He adopted the animal by way of going along with the gag on his name, proving that a man of erudition can also have a fine sense of humor. (International)

Announce Plans For Willow Run Plant

DETROIT, July 11.—(INS)—The huge Willow Run bomber plant will be used for the manufacture of either cargo or passenger planes and possibly tractors following reversion, the Ford Motor Company declared today.

In a formal statement, the company denied Washington reports that the plant will be used as a warehouse rather than for manufacturing purposes to provide employment for thousands of persons in the postwar era.

The company said the plant "is worthy and capable of much more essential operation after the war than as a storage center."

Mexico plans to welcome large American tourist groups this year.

'IS THAT NEWS?' QUERIES WILLKIE

NEW YORK, July 11.—(INS)—A reporter called Wendell Willkie, 1940 Republican presidential nominee today asked him:

"Have you heard the news from Washington—that President Roosevelt has announced he is willing to run for a fourth term?"

Over the wires boomed the hearty Willkie laugh, and this reply: "Is that news?"

Next he was asked if there was any basis for a report that he might consider a nomination as Mr. Roosevelt's running mate, for vice president on the Democratic slate:

"Oh, please!" he said. There was shock in his voice.

D.F.C. Awarded To Tech. Sgt. A. Albert

Tech. Sgt. Abdo Albert, son of Mrs. Elizabeth Albert of 511 Cunningham avenue, has been awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross for his part in the pre-invasion bombing of occupied Europe. He recently took part in the bombing of vital transportation links in northern and central France, which assaults tied up enemy movements and transportation.

Sergeant Albert has also been awarded the Air Medal with two silver Oak Leaf Clusters.

Sergeant Albert had a grandstand seat for the invasion of northern France. He was radio operator gunner on one of the first bombers to pave the way for the landing of ground troops.

Report 527,078 Military Ballot Cards In State

HARRISBURG, July 11.—(INS)—The State Defense Council announced today that 63 counties reported a total of 527,078 military ballot information cards have been compiled in the canvass of absentee voter's homes.

The remaining four counties were expected to complete their reports today.

American Bombers Blast At Toulon

ROME, July 11.—(INS)—Heavy American bombers based in Italy today attacked naval installations at the French port of Toulon on the Mediterranean.

Heavy anti-aircraft was encountered, but there was no fighter opposition. A "good pattern" was achieved on the target area.

This was the sixth American attack on Toulon, former Mediterranean base of the French fleet.

three objectives which he enumerated were expected to be the Democratic election platform.

Mr. Roosevelt said in his letter that his entire personal wish was to retire from office but that as a good soldier in time of war he did not have the right to consider his personal wishes.

Surprise Announcement
Mr. Roosevelt's surprise package was delivered before only a normal gathering of White House correspondents, about 75 in number. The crowd doubtless would have been doubled if there had been any advance hint as to the subject matter of the news conference.

The president employed his customary showmanship in "breaking" the story. It followed immediately after a prolonged question and answer period on the relations between the United States and the Free French.

Casualty, Mr. Roosevelt told the correspondents not to run for the doors because they were locked. He said he had another announcement to make. One correspondent quipped that it might have something to do with a fourth term and Mr. Roosevelt smiled broadly.

Stalls Around
He started reading Hamaguchi's letter, slowly. When he came to the phrase "clear majority" of the delegates, the president looked up and grinned and said he wanted a fresh start for him to proceed. The president calmly lit a cigarette and stalled. Finally he went on to the climax.

The exchange of letters was instituted by Democratic National Chairman Robert E. Hannagan, who informed the president that he had a "clear majority" of the delegates to the Chicago convention pledged to his re-nomination.

Hannagan declared that because of this fact "I would respectfully request that you send to the convention or otherwise convey to the people of the United States an expression that you will again respond to the call of the party and the people."

level of 96 per cent, which gets them a Minute Man flag with six per cent to spare.

Promptly at noon the plant shut down for 10 minutes, and under the direction of Miss Mary Beth McLaughry and Henry Neill of the labor-management committee a short program was run off. Hugh Morrison, works manager, made a short address over the public address system. "The Star Spangled Banner" was played over the PA system and a color guard ran the prized Minute Man flag up the pole. The goal of the plant is $85,000 and right now they are breathing right on the neck of the quota.

Kiwanians Help
Monday night the Kiwanis club staged a "block party" in Mercer street between Washington and North streets, produced a program of entertainment and finished the evening with sales of $8,050 in bonds. Clarence M. England had charge of the affair and acted as master-of-ceremonies.

Slim Carter and his Home Folks put on some hill billy music, the Sunshine Pals and Texas Ray gave out with a portion of the same. WAC Pvt. Margaret Enders gave the crowd an event and an earful with a song, and Mike Turco did his usual good job of singing a tenor solo. Ernie Branstetter was at the piano. Pvt. Isadore Sherer of the DeShon Annex spoke briefly upon his experiences in North Africa and Italy, in both of which places he was wounded and Miss Branstetter, daughter of Ernie Branstetter, pulled out the winning numbers for prizes for bond purchasers. Uncle Sam was present, spurring on the crowd. DeLace Cole taking the part of Uncle Sam.

So that's the story of the Fifth War Loan campaign today. It seems like a mighty good idea to close this loan campaign up in a hurry. The difference between victory and failure is so small right now that to fail would seem like anything but Lawrence county.

Neshannock Township To Aid In Drive

Neshannock township insists upon having a share in the newspaper collection on Saturday, July 15, and Collection Chairman Numa F. Vidal today announced collection stations for the township. Here they are: Reid's store at Walmo, Morse's gas station at the corner of Wilmington and Pulaski roads, Walmo school, Glenmore school, Painter Hill school, Fairview school coal house, Lawrence McKnight's station on the Graveland road, and Mayberry's service station in Coalton.

There will be some newspapers come out of the township, you can count on it. Mrs. William F. Clark of the Wilmington road has been a newspaper saver for a long time and by now has approximately a truck load ready to turn in. This will be brought in on Saturday.

Soldiers To Help

The collection is to gather newspapers for use in the Shenango Pattern and the proceeds from the collection to go to the Recreation Fund of the Deshon Annex in Cunningham Park. Realizing this, the men at the Annex want a part in the collection and a number of them will be on the job, riding trucks, collecting the paper and doing what is needed. Remember, when you see one of the soldiers on a truck, he is a veteran, who has been through the fight and is now being reconditioned at Deshon Annex.

The collection is for newspapers only. Magazines and cardboard are not to be gathered in this collection. Householders are asked to bundle up the newspapers in bundles of not more than 15 pounds, tie them securely and have them on the curb before noon on Saturday.

Dig out your old newspapers. Help a local industry and also the men at the reconditioning center at Deshon Annex.

Dewey Predicts Republican Win

ALBANY, July 11.—(INS)—Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, Republican nominee for president, today predicted, for the first time, his own election next November.

The forecast came during a talk with reporters about the August 2 conference of Republican governors at St. Louis. One of the accomplishments of that meeting, Governor Dewey said, will be "to eliminate the constant and serious friction after a Republican administration takes office next January."

SURPLUS FOOD TO BE STORED IN THIS STONE QUARRY

AN INTERIOR VIEW of the Kerford stone quarry "mine" in Atchison, Kan., that the war food administration has leased for the storage of surplus perishable foods in an all-out conservation effort, is pictured above. Japanese Report Large U. S. Fleet In Island Sector

NEW YORK, July 11.—(INS)—The Japanese Domei agency asserted today that it had been confirmed that a "very powerful enemy fleet consisting of two aircraft carriers and more than 30 cruisers and destroyers are playing the waters northwest of Tinian Island" in the Marianas.

The Japanese agency circulated this wire dispatch for the information of its bureau chiefs throughout occupied Asia.

The same dispatch said some 90 allied planes on July 10 attacked Guam, bombing our batteries and coastal installations. Simultaneously allied cruisers and destroyers also shelled Japanese positions on Guam, while scores of allied aircraft raided Tinian and Rota islands.

In France the selling of life insurance was at one time considered gambling and was prohibited by law.

STOCK MARKET IS UNSTEADY

Profit-Taking Appears Today And

Market Advance Is

Disrupted

NEW YORK, July 11.—(INS)—Profit-taking which appeared shortly after the opening caused a retreat in the stock market today but the selling was well absorbed. The list then turned dull.

Losses in early dealings ran from fractions to more than a point. Volume dropped off on the selling and transactions ran well under yesterday's 1,836,000 shares.

Stocks were active. Bethlehem rose fractionally to a new high only to convert its gain into a loss of 1/4 U. S. Steel on fairly large transactions also lost a point.

In the aviation, United Air Lines made a new peak in a small advance. Rails gave ground with the rest of the list. Atchafalaya, Baltimore & Ohio, New York Central, Northern Pacific and Southern Pacific lost large fractions but part of this was recovered before midday on short covering.

Pepsi Cola ran counter to the general market, rising more than two points to a new high. Motors were quiet after Chrysler dipped a point and Willys Overland a large fraction. General Motors, however, was an exception, rising against the trend. Others in this group did little or nothing.

General Electric rose fractionally into new high ground. American Telephone was active around last night's close but International Telephone eased on light transactions.

Coca-Cola was quiet but firm. Rail bonds were steady.

Y. M. C. A. Camp Opens Monday

Month's Camping Season
For Youth Of City Gets
Under Way At Fred
L. Rentz Camp

With a program crammed full of activities planned for the youths of the city who will be fortunate enough to attend one of the four week periods at the Fred L. Rentz Y. M. C. A. camp along the Slippery Rock, the camp opened Monday and by today the boys had slipped into camp routine in smooth fashion. There are 84 at the camp for the first week, including Camp Director Bill Winter and the counselors.

The boys got off to a good start yesterday, ideal camping weather prevailing. After arriving at camp, the boys were assigned to their cabins, teams were organized and the boys soon became acquainted with their cabin mates. A start was also made on the activities which will keep the boys occupied during every waking hour.

Most refreshing of all has been the cooling dip in the waters of the Slippery Rock creek, which is doubly appreciated because of the hot weather which is being experienced at the present time.

This evening a special feature of the day program will include the showing of pictures by Jack Boyles, a member of the board of directors.
